BIG FEATURE OF WEEK Efforts to Arrange Financing for Central Europe Bullish on Stocks Here.

The stock market, the bond market and every other market upon which interest in Wall Street converges was forced into a position of secondary importance last week by the extraordinary gyrations of foreign exchange...

Reparations Terms Too Severe. There can be no question that Europe's poverty is the ulcer which must be healed before the world is once more on a solid and firm basis.

HITTADEPRESSION HITS CAPEL COURT

American Rubber Consumers Fear Restrictions by Growers.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD. Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD. New York Herald Bureau, London, Dec. 17.

Although the new American proposal for the stabilization of Europe arrived too late to affect the stock market, it had a bracing influence upon continental currencies, which show fairly general appreciation. Again business was far from brisk in Capel Court last week, though there was activity in specialties, and it is feared that dealings are more likely to dwindle than to expand this week because of the Christmas holiday.
